In Alejandra Campoverdi's First Gen: A Memoir, she acknowledges the challenging patterns inherited by generations of women in her family, and the intergenerational knowledge and strength that has also been passed down. Growing up in a small apartment in Los Angeles with her grandparents, aunts and mother who immigrated from Mexico, Campoverdi's childhood can serve as a familiar foundation, one she sifts through to offer guidance on how to grow and change while nurturing the roots that forge a sense of belonging and purpose.

All are welcome to join: students, faculty, and staff.

Please pick up your book from the Center for Teaching Excellence (LC-201) by March 1, 2024.

If disability accommodations (e.g., communications access, alternate formats) are needed to participate fully in these events, please contact accommodationsrequest@cerritos.edu within seven school days in advance.
