4 The Board of Trustees recognizes that effective teaching, counseling and librarianship
5 are accomplished through educated and professional members of the teaching 6 profession. All faculty members should maintain a constructive attitude toward those 7 under their direction, should cooperate with other members of their profession, and should 8 respect both the direct and indirect authority of the Board of Trustees. These reciprocal 9 relationships require the cooperation of all constituents in the shared governance 10 process.
