Feeding Cerritos

Taking care of our community means – we take care of the whole person – meeting the basic needs of our most vulnerable students and community members when they need it most. Food, during times of distress, is often the best way to show you care. Through our Falcon's Nest, Cerritos College is feeding the community, and providing centralized support services for students facing basic need insecurities. Our students can access on- and off-campus food, housing, health & wellness, financial wellness, and employment resources.
