Norwalk, Calif. – January 13, 2021 – The Cerritos College Foundation announced a new scholarship created by nonprofit organization The Love We Don't See. Cerritos College students who are working to further social justice initiatives or have been impacted by social or institutional injustice are encouraged to apply. The scholarship application is available online through January 19, 2021.

The Love We Don't See was founded by psychology alumnus Sylvester Ani (2016) to "bring love to life" through philanthropy, education, and social justice and community service initiatives. The organization also wants to further Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s last initiative, the Poor People's campaign, which demanded economic and human rights for poor Americans of diverse backgrounds.

"Our organization's concept of giving is mutual aid, which is the voluntary reciprocal exchange of resources and services for mutual benefit. We want Cerritos College students to feel empowered to make change in their lives and in the world," said Ani.

The Love We Don't See is also piloting a Universal Basic Income Stimulus Program, inspired by the work of Dr. King and supported by the Jrue and Lauren Holiday Fund. Ani hopes that Cerritos College students will consider applying to participate in the pilot program online <https://www.the Lovewedontsee.org>.

Ani will discuss the stimulus program, his goals for The Love We Don't See, and other topics as the first guest in the new Cerritos College Alumni Conversations series, Thursday, January 21 at 6 p.m. on Zoom.
