Hypatia and the (Nearly) Forgotten Contribution of Women Philosophers in Ancient Greece

Monday, March 4 | 7 - 8:15 p.m.

Zoom Meeting:

Presented by the Philosophy Club

The traditional canon in (so-called) Western Philosophy is so dominated by male thinkers, it can appear that women simply had no role in its development. This appearance is simply false. Women have made significant contributions to philosophical thought since the beginning of recorded Western Philosophy. In this talk, we will discuss the work of women philosophers in ancient Greece, with a special focus on Hypatia, and how their work has been intentionally and unintentionally suppressed and (somewhat) forgotten from ancient times to today.
